Dogs are special animals. They are more than just pets. Their excellent __ (1) __ of smell also makes them wonderful at detecting just about anything. __ (2) __ this reason, they are often kept as sniffer dogs. These super smellers help police or airport staff find items like drugs or weapons. Have you __ (3) __ seen sniffer dogs sniffing at travelers' luggage? If they pick up any strange smell coming from someone's suitcase, they simply sit down __ (4) __ it. They're so well trained that they __ (5) __ move __ (5) __ their trainer or owner allows them to. Sniffer dogs have even been used __ (6) __ to also detect disease in plants. By sniffing out trees __ (7) __ root rot disease, they are helping to save forests and parks across Taiwan. In __ (8) __ cases, man's best friend's nose can even save lives. 58-year-old Maria Tello, for example, suffers from diabetes. One night, her dog Malachi noticed that the __ (9) __ of her blood sugar was too low. __ (10) __ he picked up chemical changes in her body, he knew she was in danger. He woke her up right away and even fetched her medicine! I'm guessing dogs and their noses will be helping us for many more years to come.

Abraham Lincoln became the 16th president of the United States in 1861. At that time, the North and the South had been fighting for over a hundred years over the issue of __ 11 __. With the task of resolving this difficult problem laid __ 12 __ his feet, Lincoln's main goal as president was to once more unite(團結)the country. At a time when the Civil War was raging, __ 13 __, this did not seem possible until Lincoln's Gettysburg Address* in 1863. That was also the year Lincoln approved a change to the law to effectively put an end to slavery.

According to historians, Lincoln had always seen slavery as __ 14 __. However, he took a long time to figure out what to do about the wrongful __ 15 __ of African Americans. Shockingly, just as people were __ 16 __ the end of the Civil War and Lincoln's re-election in 1865, he was killed. He was shot __ 17 __ Washington, D.C., while watching a play with his wife.

Without doubt, Lincoln was certainly a key figure in bringing __ 18 __ to African Americans all across the country. He will thus always be remembered as one of the most __ 19 __ presidents of all time. His great leadership and stories continue to be a great influence across America and __ 20 __ the world. His memory lives on!
