House fires killed tens of thousands every year. They are very dangerous and can spread quickly through a building. But don't be afraid. Knowing a few things about fires could save your life. So what do you need to know?

Learning the exits in your building is a good start. Check the exits where you live and go. Most places have them at the main entrance and on each floor. Next, make sure your fire alarm is working. An alarm can give you more time to escape. Leave the building right away if you hear an alarm. You might get trapped by fire even within three seconds.

When exiting, don't open doors that are hot. It means that the fire is already right outside the door. If the door is not hot and there is no smoke coming in from the door gap, get out of the building as soon as possible. However, don't use the elevator, or you may trap yourself. Don't ever run from fire by going upstairs, either. Fire and smoke rise quickly and will follow you up. Smoke is especially dangerous. In fact, most people died in fires due to the heavy smoke. They were not killed by fire directly. So always stay low when in fires. There's more air near the ground.

Finally, if you are trapped in the building, find a safe place to wait for help. Don't hide in a bathroom. It is hard to get out of a bathroom whose door burns easily. Find a room with a window or a balcony, so that firefighters can enter the room easily. It is safer to close the thick door and stay in the room than to run out into thick black smoke without any protective equipment.

Remember the fire safety rules. Practice them with your friends and family. Every decision you make in a fire decides whether you will survive or not. Besides, fewer people need firefighters to save them from fires, fewer firefighters will die in fires. So, save your life and save the firefighters', too.

44. Now a building is on fire. People who are still inside need to do something to stay alive.
- According to the reading, who might be saved from the fire by firefighters in the end?
- (A) Tom is hiding in the bathroom. He puts a lot of water in the bathtub and sits in the water.
- (B) The fire alarm has been ringing for ten minutes. Benson finally starts to run out and he opens the door which is very hot.
- (C) Ruby is sitting at her desk and looking at the door. She has already closed the door and put her clothes into the door gap.
- (D) May is covering her mouth and nose with a wet towel while she is running upstairs. The black smoke around her is getting more and more.
45. Which is true according to the reading?
- (A) Hide in a place where you can easily get water to put out the fire. The water will save you from the fire.
- (B) When you go to a strange place, it is very important to remember all of its exits first.
- (C) In a burning house, fire itself causes more death than smoke.
- (D) You can run faster than smoke, so when you see smoke on the stairs, you should run upstairs, not downstairs.

Tabata training is a very popular way of exercising these days. It doesn't take much time or space, and it burns calories faster than other ways of exercising. The idea of Tabata training is simple: exercise for 20 seconds, rest for 10 seconds, and then repeat (at least eight times). The moves for the 20-second exercise are not difficult to learn. Jumping jacks, high knees, squats, and planks are some of the most common moves. You can decide yourself what moves to do in your Tabata training. For example, you can do more leg exercises if you want strong legs

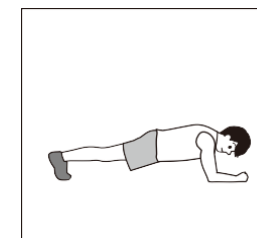

JUMPING JACK

HIGH KNEES

PLANK

One great thing about Tabata training is that your body will keep burning calories for at least an hour after 4 minutes of Tabata training. But to have this wonderful "afterburn," you need to exercise really hard during each 20 seconds. If you seldom exercise or have heart problems, this exercise may not be good for you. But for people who enjoy exercising but are too busy to go to the gym, Tabata training might just be the answer.
