三、篇章結構(1 小題，每格 2 分，共 8 分) 五選四

- (A) After all, he had managed to trick almost every animal in the forest!
(B) The goat quickly dropped a rope into the well, trying to save the fox.
(C) Inside, he saw a fox who could not climb out and was in desperate need of help.
(D) The wise monkey shook his head and said to himself, “One is too trusting, the other is too cunning. Both wind up suffering in the end!”
(E) The poor goat had believed in the goodness of all creatures but had forgotten that foxes were known to be dishonest.

There was once a good-hearted goat who was enjoying some grass near an old well. Suddenly, he heard a splash coming from the well and someone shouting, “Help! I’ve fallen into the well!” The goat rushed to the side of the well and looked down. __21__ The good-natured goat said to himself, “Well, I have to help the poor fox because he might drown!” He then jumped down without a second thought. “Thanks,” said the fox, “but you should really look twice before you jump!” The fox hopped on the goat’s head and jumped out of the well before the goat realized what had happened. __22__ The fox laughed at the silly goat and walked off to a tree full of delicious apples. There was an old monkey sitting in the tree, enjoying one of the apples. The fox, who was always a little too proud, thought that he could trick the monkey, too. __23__ “Please drop me one of your apples, monkey, and I will show you a hidden treasure on the other side of the forest!” the fox said. The wise monkey had seen what had happened at the well from the top of the tree, and he pretended to agree. He dropped an apple, knowing that the fox would run off into a nearby hole. Sure enough, the fox ran off with the apple, but it did not get far before the monkey laid his own trap. The monkey shook the branches of the tree, and 20 apples fell and buried the fox. The fox was stuck and let out a cry. __24__ He eventually saved both the goat and the fox but gave them a firm warning: “Always think before you act!”

四、閱讀測驗(1 小題，每格 2 分，共 8 分)

Ernest Hemingway's short story "The Old Man and the Sea" explores determination, courage, and the struggle between humans and nature. Through the tale of an aging fisherman's battle with a magnificent marlin, Hemingway delivers a powerful message about human resilience.

The story follows Santiago, an elderly Cuban fisherman who has gone 84 days without catching a fish. Despite his misfortune, Santiago remains determined and ventures far into the Gulf Stream. There, he hooks an enormous marlin that drags his small boat for three days. Throughout this ordeal, Santiago endures physical pain and exhaustion while developing a deep respect for his worthy opponent.

On the third day, Santiago finally succeeds in killing the marlin. He straps the massive fish to the side of his boat and heads home, but the blood from the marlin attracts sharks. Despite Santiago's valiant efforts to fight them off, the sharks gradually devour the marlin, leaving only its skeleton by the time he reaches shore.

The experience leaves Santiago physically defeated but spiritually triumphant. "The Old Man and the Sea" reminds us that true victory often lies not in the outcome but in the dignity of the struggle itself. Hemingway suggests that even in apparent defeat, there can be profound honor, teaching readers that courage in the face of inevitable loss defines human greatness.

26 Where is this passage most likely to appear?

- (A) In a fishing magazine. (B) In a travel guide about Cuba.

五、混合題(素養題)(共 8 分)

Tamika Catchings is a star both on and off the court. She is the daughter of NBA player Harvey Catchings and also a Women's National Basketball Association (WNBA) All-Star and Olympic gold medalist. However, it may surprise some people to know Catchings was born partly deaf. She says that's exactly what motivated her to become the star she is today.

As a young child, Catchings wore hearing aids and could not speak well. Her classmates teased her constantly. Every day was a challenge for her. "I cried and prayed a lot," she admits.

Then sports came into her life. In the classroom, kids made fun of her for being different. On the basketball court, they couldn't. She worked hard and eventually became better than them. "I outworked them, plain and simple," she says.

Catchings dreamed of a career in sports. She knew from watching her father's practices that it took hard work to be a professional basketball player. But she was willing to work for her dream. Finally, she achieved it, being drafted in 2001 by the WNBA Indiana Fever. Her achievements are impressive: three Olympic Gold Medals, eight WNBA All-Star appearances, and a WNBA championship.

Now, she travels the world to play basketball and to speak out on behalf of hard-of-hearing people. For her, it's important for everyone who goes through difficulties to help others. "I am all about helping our youth to catch their dreams one star at a time."

下列簡短敘述摘記上方文章重點。請從文章中選出兩個單詞 (word)，分別填入下列空格，並視語法需要作適當的字形變化，使句子語意完整、語法正確，且符合原文文意。每格限填一個單詞 (word)。
