Did you ever go on a date without knowing even what the person looked like until you met him or her in person? They call that a blind date. Let me tell you about a recent blind date I had. In fact, I did not know it was a blind date at the time.

Three weeks ago, my partner Sara and I went to a sushi restaurant. When we got there, we sat down at a table with two other people: Sara’s boyfriend, Ronald, and another guy named Jimmy, but I did not know him. Jimmy was a nice guy and we became good friends. We even began to date. Last Friday, Sara told me a secret about that night. She took me to that restaurant to meet Jimmy, “Why didn’t you tell me it was a blind date?” I asked. “You always worry too much about meeting new people. You would never go on a blind date,” Sara said. She was right. And she taught me an important lesson. In other words, I should be open to doing new things and meeting new friends.

16. What might be the best title for the article?

(A) A Blind-Date Experience (B) Experience of a Blind Person’s Day

(C) A Beauty-and-Beast Story (D) Beauty Is Only Skin Deep

(A) She does not have a boyfriend. (B) She is probably upset and blind.

(C) She does not like to meet new friends. (D) She helped her partner to find a boyfriend.

18. According to this passage, which of the following statements is true?

(A) The author arranged a blind date for her friends, Ronald and Sara. (B) The author met Jimmy for the first time thanks to Sara’s arrangement. (C) The author was blind so she did not know what Jimmy looked like.

(D) The author helped Jimmy and Ronald to find their girlfriends.

19. What is the meaning of the word “blind”?

(A) 盲的 (B) 哑的 (C) 失語的 (D) 失聰的

20. What does the word “recent” mean?

(A) 緊張的 (B) 最近的 (C) 令人驚豔的 (D) 不同的
