八、綜合測驗(5小題，每題2分，共10分)

Taipei and Hualien are just a little over two hours apart by train or car. These two cities are, however, ____(1)__ in terms of population, economy, and overall vibe*. With a population of close to 3 million, Taipei has 30 times the ____(2)__ of residents that Hualien does. It's therefore a large ____(3)__ city where everybody always seems to be on the move. Skyscrapers fill the skyline and smartly dressed people fill the crowded streets and alleys. It's an expensive place to live, but the comforts are many.

Hualien, on the other hand, is a laid-back town where the pace of life is much slower. It is surrounded by impressive scenery: towering mountains on one side and the glorious Pacific Ocean on the other. ____(4)__, all of this beauty comes at an affordable* price, especially when compared with Taipei. Fishing, farming, and to some degree tourism, are the main industries. ____(5)__, their relative closeness, the differences between Taipei and Hualien couldn't be more obvious. Both, however, are great places to live and work.
