The former Prime Minister of Japan, Abe Shinzo, will always be remembered as a dedicated public servant, a man of the people, and a friend of Taiwan. Sadly, Mr. Abe was assassinated while giving a public speech in July 2022. The brutal murderer, standing in the crowd, used a homemade gun to commit the cold-blooded murder. When questioned by police after his arrest, the murderer said he had a quarrel with a religious group that he considered Mr. Abe had supported. To carry out his murder plan, the murderer blended in with the crowd and escaped detection by the security guards who were supposed to be protecting the former Prime Minister.

Before his death, Mr. Abe was always crystal clear when speaking about his position on Japan's relationship with Taiwan, calling it an important friendship. He not only visited Taiwan in person several times during the years he held political office but also encouraged the governments of the United States and other countries to protect Taiwan against outside threats and attacks.

During Mr. Abe's two presidential terms of office, the governments of Japan and Taiwan have signed a number of important agreements to strengthen ties and promote cooperation. These included establishing direct flights and collaborating in regulating the fishing industry in shared waters of the Pacific.

After leaving office, Mr. Abe helped provide Taiwan with COVID-19 vaccines and showed his support for Taiwan's fruit when Taiwan was facing difficulties. Accordingly, Mr. Abe will be remembered for sharing values with the Taiwanese people.
