III. Cloze (每題 2 分/20 分)

Bees are dying because of the use of pesticides on plants. It ____(41)___ that when bees touch or consume the nectar of flowers that have been treated with pesticides, they develop brain damage. This makes them unable to collect food or find their way home. As a result, many bees die from hunger ____(42)___ home.

About one third of all our food is believed to result from pollination by bees. ____(43)___ flying around, bees carry pollen from one flower to another. This way, they help plants reproduce. ____(44)___, without bees, we may not have apples, kiwis, cabbage, broccoli, pumpkins, or many other foods.

Bees may be small, but without them, we'd find ____(45)___ difficult to produce enough food for everyone. Therefore, bees are important for maintaining the stability of the web of life. If bees disappear for good, this web may be in great danger.

There are millions of beehives on earth. The country with the most of these is India*, ____(46)___ has over twelve and a half million hives. China is thought to have more than nine million. Finally, Turkey* comes in third, ____(47)___ about eight million hives.

There can be up to sixty thousand bees ____(48)___ in a hive at any time. Most of these are worker bees whose job is to take care of ____(49)___ the queen bee ____(49)___ her brood*. The queen and young bees need to be carefully fed and looked after. Doing so is no easy task, as a queen can lay up to 1,500 eggs a day.

Though many of the world's bees can be found in hives, it is, however, important to note that not all types of bees live in such structures. Some may find ____(50)___ hard to imagine that less than ten thousand of the world's twenty thousand different bee species actually live in hives. How unbelievable!
