第二大題：根據中文意思，請選出正確的英文單字。每題 3 分，共 15 題。

Do you always wake up late in the morning? Do you 11. 設定(set/ sit) the alarm at night, then hit the snooze button the next morning and go 12. 直接地(same/ straight) back to sleep? 研究 shows that 40% of all people do this and then 13. 睡過頭(overslept/ oversleep)! If you are one of them, don't worry—two amazing new alarm clocks were 發明 to solve the problem.

The first 14. 第一個(another/ one) is Tocky. Its 發明者 thought that since the snooze button is so easy to reach, the alarm clock should just run away! This 15. 球形的(ball-shaped/ ball-shape) alarm clock rings just like a 一般的 alarm clock. The 16. 差別(different/ difference) is that it will 採取行動 if you try to go back to sleep. It will jump off the table, 17. 製造/ 發出(do/ make) a lot of noise, and start running around everywhere! To stop the noise, you have to 離開 bed and chase after it. In this way, Tocky 承諾/ 保證 that you will get up on time every time.

18. 另一個(The other/ Other) new alarm clock is Ramos. It was designed to wake you up in a different way. This smart alarm has three parts: a clock, a Bluetooth beacon, and a smartphone app. To use it, you 摆放 the beacon somewhere far from your bedroom. When the alarm 19. 響起(goes off/ goes out) in the morning, you need to hold your smartphone near the beacon 20. 為了(in order to/ in order) stop the alarm. If you are a really 21. 不易叫醒的(big/ heavy) sleeper, you can also set a code 22. 事先(in advance/ in the beginning).

You will need to enter these particular numbers to stop the alarm. Either way, you will have to get out of bed.

The inventors of both Tocky and Ramos said that they 23. 創造/ 發明(did/ created) their clocks because they always overslept. If you 24. 遭遇(has/ encounter) the same problem, maybe you can 25. 想出(come up with/ come down with) an even better way to wake up on time!
